Reach Out: Safe Partying
Reach Out is a web-based service run by the Inspire Foundation, which fosters the mental health and wellbeing of young people aged 14 to 25 years. This section of its website provides information on how teenagers can celebrate safely and risks to be aware of, and links to comprehensive information on alcohol and other associated issues.

How To Make A Dog Bone Piñata
One for kids who want to help celebrate the family dog's birthday. This ABC website features a video showing the making of a bone-shaped piñata. This can be filled with dry dog food, so after the kids have smashed it open, the party pet can gobble up the treats scattered on the ground.
